"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players: they have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts . . ."

Shakespeare

I've been looking forward to this moment for some time for I have several things that I have been most anxious to say to you. First, let me invite you to join me and the administration, the alumni, the faculty, and all those associated with this college in building an outstanding institution. There is no reason why this college can't improve dramatically in the years ahead to become one of the best of its kind and type in this country.

What can you do to help? You can do very much, after you answer two questions. First, you should ask yourself exactly why you are here. I hope the answer is that you are here to achieve a richer, broader, fuller life and citizenship and to pick up the personal and intellectual equipment which will help you to become a truly educated person.

Brooks Asks

It has been proven that some students go to college because they have nothing else to do; some because it is the fashion; some to take part in athletics; some to have a good time; some to look for a husband or wife; others to make friends who will be useful to them later in business or in politics; and some simply because they are looking for security in a changing and uncertain world. Many of these students will gain little, having no real purpose in going to college. Others will be harmed because they have spent time and money on unworthy objects. Others might better be spent in ways.

You shouldn't have the mere going to college advantage. This is not

College is only an opportunity. One gets out of it only in proportion to what he puts into it. High standards of conduct and achievement in college do help to open opportunities on graduation. A poor college record may be a handicap. Unless one brings to college right purpose, reasonable ability and a willingness to give his best effort, it would be better for him not to go.

Open to All

Central Washington State College, being a public institution, is devoted to the premise that it is sound democratic policy that everyone who has the ability to do the work and who is eager to make the most of his opportunity should have the chance to go to college regardless of his wealth or social position. This college also has the policy, and we think it is a sound one, not to maintain a college people view as indifferent.

Indifferent. College offers most of the opportunity that you believe your college as an opportunity.

for yourself, and remember too, college is but a small part of an intelligent person's education. Many a mature and disciplined student learns more in one year of self-directed study than he did during four years of college. Edison and Franklin learned by systematic observation; Justice Holmes by listening. Many of the statesmen who founded our republic were wide readers. Thoughtful travel is a great teacher. Conversation with people of experience and achievement is highly instructive and helpful. Discriminating use of government publications, books, magazines and movies is necessary for intelligent living in the modern rapidly changing world. Even if you go to college and are exposed to these and many other roads to knowledge, you must continue to use them after you are out of college or you will soon become what is known as an educated dunce.

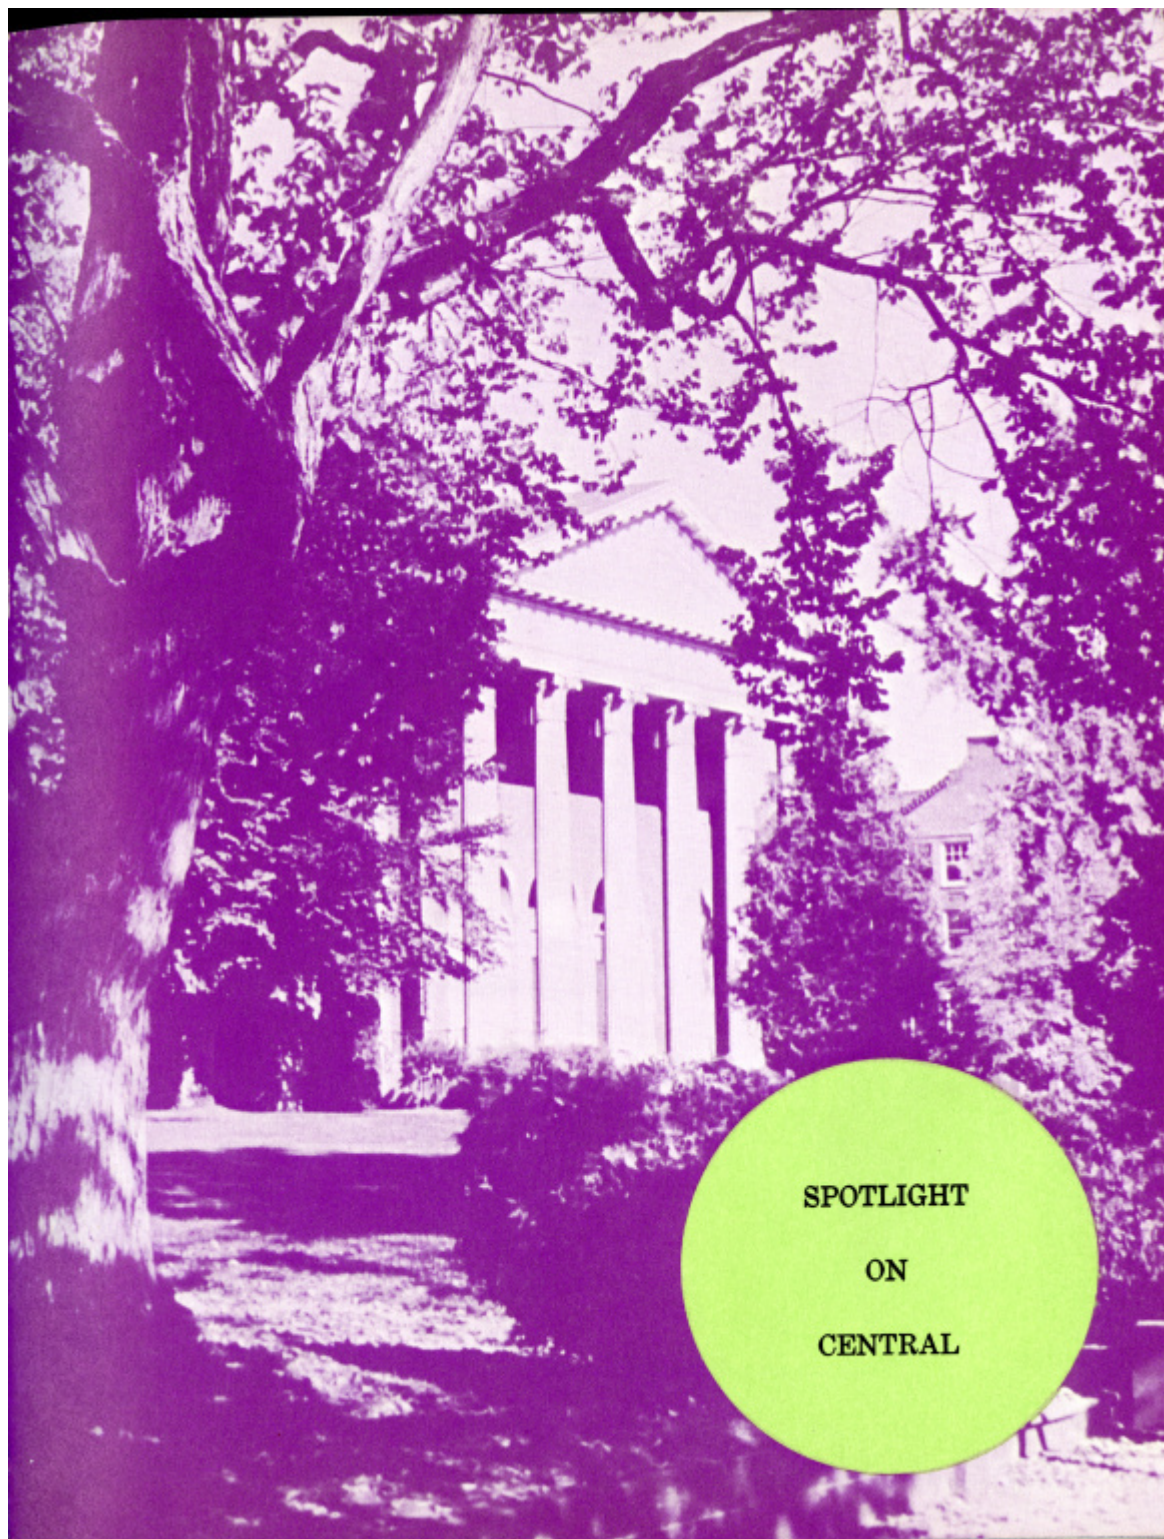

Education then, is truly an enterprise of a lifetime and some- for which you must show the obligation for the effort and the obligation to do to you; we the process. exactly years 1961-1962 was a dramatic year for our nation as our first spaceman orbited around the earth, but it was an equally dramatic year for the students and faculty of our college. Central Washington State College of Education became Central Washington State College and was further honored by the appointment of Dr. James E. Brooks as new President.

We have attempted to spotlight these dramatic events and the many others which set the dramatic tone for the college year and made it an exciting and dramatic experience for everyone.

In keeping with this theme, our book is arranged in the manner of "the theatre", our cast is linked together on stage flats, and our division pages have taken on names relative to a stage production, each introduced by the words of a great playwright.

We have especially noted the star events of the year in our opening pages which focus in a wide scope of concerns. These are the events which have made up the drama of this first year of existence for Central Washington State College and we of the 1962 Hyakem join Dr. Brooks in the opinion that "... there is no reason why this college cannot improve dramatically in the years ahead."

TO ANNETTE HITCHCOCK

The 1962 Hyakem is dedicated to a lady who for the last twenty years has devoted her concern and efforts to the betterment of our college. Not only has she made a significant contribution to the field of education as Associate Professor of English, but she has helped students adjust to college life and in many cases to find themselves through her capacity as Dean of Women.

Mrs. Hitchcock has been extremely active as a member of various organizations and twice president of the Washington State Deans of Women having attended every convention since 1942. She is also a member of National Personnel Association and was a founder of the Northwest Deans of Women in Education, Administrative Women in Education, American Association of University Women, NEA and WEA are other organizations to which she belongs.

Mrs. Hitchcock was born in Northwood, North Dakota and received her Bachelor's Degree from the University of North Dakota. In 1940, she earned her Masters Degree at Columbia University. She has two children and has been a widow since 1937.

Here on Central's campus, Mrs. Hitchcock has made herself known by her interest in and assistance to students. She is directly responsible for bringing "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" to our campus and has served on many committees including the Union Board.

Her contributions to our college have made her a worthy recipient of this dedication.

DIRECTORS

"Much wisdom often goes with the fewest words."
Sophocles

Such is the case with the administration and campus officials here at Central; for though these men and women are kept behind the scenes and seldom speak, they are truly the wise directors of all the activities which keep our college running smoothly. They range from the always friendly infirmiry nurses, through the helpful deans, the workers in our CUB and other buildings, even to our trustees whose guidance, while not so obvious, is very helpful.

NEW PRESIDENT

James E. Brooks, first President of Central Washington State College.

In selecting drama as the theme of this year's annual, the staff of the Hyakem has chosen well.

The drama of growth, of progress, has been about us continually during this year at Central Washington State College. Our growth has not been in enrollment alone, although the number of students now attending Central exceeds the number attending in previous years. The drama of our growth is in expansion of aims, of purposes, of the entire future of Central.

The drama of education today is ever-important in keeping America free. It unfolds another scene monthly, another act yearly. Great strides have been taken in the education of our young Americans. More and greater strides are to come, so that America will continue in its role of a world leader.

The drama of Central's growth is the drama of your growth because in many ways you, the students, are the college. The students of Central are to be commended on their mature approach to present-day problems, their attitude toward learning, their insatiable curiosity about their world and their ever-growing efforts to dig into its problems.

I am happy to greet the students of Central. Still in my first year, I am a comparative newcomer to the presidency of this college, but I am not a newcomer to the college itself. As a graduate of Central, I have my roots firmly planted here, and I am happy to be playing my role in this drama of Central's exciting present and promising future.

BRINGS NEW ERA TO CENTRAL

Having been praised as an "educator, a scholar, and an administrator," Dr. James E. Brooks was selected to be the President of Central Washington State College and assumed office on August 1, 1961. Dr. Brooks' degree from Central is in Education with a major in Social Science. At the University of Washington, Brooks earned his M.A. and his Ph.D. degrees in geography in 1952 and 1957. At Central, he was Vice-President of his freshman class (below, left), Homecoming signs co-chairman (below, middle), and a member of Honor Council (below right).

Although he is only 35 years old, Dr. Brooks has had a wide variety of experience in college administration. Among the most important is his having been a member of the "Committee of Nine," a joint committee composed of representatives from the State's three colleges of education. Also, Dr. Brooks is the co-author of a book, "The Oregon Almanac."

Dr. and Mrs. Brooks, who is an experienced elementary school teacher with a degree from Central, have four children, Carol Lynnette, 7, Marla Kay, 5, Ronda Jo, 3, and Brian Dean, nine months.

PRODUCERS

"A thousand words will not leave so deep an impression as one deed."
Ibsen

Central's faculty members are the producers of our drama, and their worth can be measured by their experiences and deeds. Our faculty is always actively engaged in college and outside activities—both large and small—from around the world trips to a "cup of Coffee" and afternoon discussion. Faculty members are in tune with modern teaching trends and are always ready to discuss the issues and hear ideas expressed by others.

ED - PSYCH AND PHILOSOPHY

The Education division completed its second year in the new Ed-Psych building, formally called, Black Hall.

A new course was taught by Dr. Nauman relating to problems of program instruction in its connection with using modern teaching machines.

Dr. Maurice Pettit spent this year on leave teaching on a special assignment at the University of California at Los Angeles, and Dr. Loretta Miller, having finished post graduate studies at the University of Chicago, spent the year touring the Orient.

Mr. Donald Thompson, Professor of Education, completed his thirty-third year at Central college and announced his retirement.

Dr. Keller, Assistant professor of Philosophy, was active in improving and restructuring the department classes dealing with Philosophy.

Because of necessity for teachers and for the experience involved, several of the Psychology 310 and Education 314 classes were run on a team teaching basis with emphasis on special knowledges as basis for the innovation. Two graduates working within their Masters programs also assisted in department teaching.

SPEECH, DRAMA, RADIO, AND TELEVISION

Central's Speech and Drama division presented a full slate of excellent dramatic productions this year including "Merchant of Venice" fall quarter, "Brigadoon" winter, and a special spring production coinciding with the inauguration of Dr. Brooks.

Dr. Lyman Partridge was called to Olympia during Spring quarter to assist in the coordination for use of educational T.V. among our state school systems. Norman Howell was acting head of the division during Dr. Partridge's absence.

A book called "Children's Theatre and Creative Dramatics" was completed by Mrs. Hazel Dunnington and Dr. Albert Weissberg was instrumental in setting up an FM radio station on Central's campus.

Orville Wensley, speech therapist, began a speech clinic aimed at helping anyone with speech or hearing problems in the Central Washington area.

Those members of the division not pictured are: Milo Smith, Asst. Prof. Speech and Drama, Dir. of College Theatre, M.A.; Orville Wensley, Asst. Prof. Speech, M.A.

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

The Language and Literature division admitted two new teachers to its language department this year in an attempt to enlarge and vary Central's language department by making Spanish and German, as well as French available to CWSC students.

Dr. Bullard, chairman of the division took a leave of absence for a five-month trip around the world leaving Keith Rinehart as acting head of the division through Winter and Spring quarters until her return in the summer. Dr. Bullard announced her resignation before she left, but intends to teach some summer courses. All of Central has benefited from the twenty-five years of Dr. Bullard's wise and devoted service to the college and will not soon find a replacement with as much wisdom and zeal for accomplishment.

Members of the English department, students, and faculty have given their earnest support to the English and literary forum club on campus, and Dr. Burt has participated on the SGA movie committee with efforts for a better foreign film program.

Donald Cummings and Burt Anshutz have been particularly active in the publication of "Inescape" magazine.

One member of the department not pictured was Jeanette Sogge, Inst. English.

AIR SCIENCE

The Air Science department made its presence known to Centralites as each Tuesday, Air Force ROTC cadets aligned themselves on the CUB mall to march to classroom instruction.

A corps of advanced cadets, chosen by interest and testing, was, as usual, placed in charge of the freshman and sophomore cadets who are required to participate in military training before they may receive a degree from Central college. Opportunities were available for students interested in marching band and drill team.

ROTC cadets gave spirit and dignity to the campus by sponsoring the formal Military Ball and the annual Military Review in the spring.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Central can be justly proud of its Science and Mathematics division members. Dorothy Dean, Associate Professor of Biological Science has spent the winter and spring quarters on sabbatical leave touring world universities and colleges to observe new developments in chemistry and chemical education. Dr. W. W. Newschwander spent last summer at scientific institutes held at Emory and Fisk Universities, and is doing valuable research this year at Clark University where he is experimenting in Biological Chemistry relative to certain botanical problems. Leave has been extended to Curt Wiberg for the years 1962, 1963 to continue his work in zoology, under his Natural Science Fellowship Grant.

The Chairman of the division, Dr. Edmund Lind, is to be granted a sabbatical leave for 1962 and 1963 to conduct needed research in a phase of radio chemistry and atomic energy. Also, Dr. Lind is hoping to set up some type of scientific research program involving college seniors majoring in Chemistry or Physics.

HOME ECONOMICS

Attainment of a long-sought goal came this fall for the Home Economics division of Central Washington State College. When classes started the division included teacher training in vocational home economics. This program enables the college to train young women to be home economics teachers in high schools which receive financial support from the Smith-Hughes and George Barden acts. These acts provide federal funds for promotion not only of Home Economics in the high schools but also of agriculture, trade and industry.

Doing research for completion of their Masters Degrees were Marion McMahon (Tailoring Methods Preferred and Used by College Clothing Teachers") and Cora Sivers ("A study of Insulation and Fabric Degradation (Due to Heat and Light) of Selected Cotton and Glass Fiber Drapery Fabrics, Lined and Unlined.")

Those of the department not pictured are: Eleanor Vergin, Chrmn., M.S.; Marion McMahon, Asst. Prof. Home Ec., M.S.; and Cora Sivers, Asst. Prof. Home Ec., M.S.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

This year the P.E. division introduced some innovations into its instruction program by offering separate classes for freshman and sophomores who were P.E. or Health majors or minors. Those classes were especially designed to emphasize methods of teaching as well as actual performance in P.E. activity classes. Juniors and seniors majoring and minoring in P.E. were given "on-the-job" teaching experience by assisting P.E. instructors teaching college classes.

During fall quarter, a professional education clinic was held on Central's campus, at which over 100 women high school and junior high school P.E. teachers were in attendance.

Throughout the year, the Health division has worked with SGA and the Campus Planning Committee for recreation classes and outdoor classrooms within a picnic area.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

The opening of Central's prize winning library building brought "hectic" moving problems to the library staff—arrangement of books, new furniture and orientation of students to the new floor plan.

The CWSC library became the first library on the West Coast to install "Sysdac" circulation machines to improve on the old "sign-out" method of checking out books.

The new library building has made possible the consolidation of all resource materials into one "Educational Resource Center".

Those members of the staff not pictured are: John Allen, Acquis. Lib. M.Lib. M.A. in L.S. and Margaret Linn, M.S. in L.S.

MUSIC

The Music division has busied itself by participating in a multitude of programs this past year. In cooperation with the Speech division, "Brigadoon" was produced.

Individual members of the music faculty have entertained the campus with special recitals beginning with a piano and violin recital by Dr. Bird and Miss Davies and including others by Miss Davies and Dr. Haruda.

At Christmas time, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Hertz, the music division produced Handel's "Messiah" providing opportunity for both college choir and over one-hundred community singers to participate.

Mr. Waldie Anderson, director of the Central orchestra, won $300 and expenses to the Metropolitan Opera Audition in New York City.

Central's Band performed in several concerts and toured the Okanogan Valley and Canada during March.

Central's choir, too, went on its annual tour of Western and Southwestern Washington during April, completing its tour with a home concert, April 16th.

Those members not pictured are: Raymond Bauer, Asst.-Prof. Music, M.M. and A. Bert Christianson, Assoc. Prof. Music, M.S.

ART AND INDUSTRIAL ART

Central's Art and Industrial Arts division provided two new courses for students this year—African and Oceanic Art and Art of the Orient and Near East—as well as expanding its present program in the fields of electricity and electronics. For the first time, advanced studies were opened to interested students.

During Senior Day, the exhibits of student and faculty pottery, jewelry and paintings in the Bellevue-Arts and Crafts Fair made a good showing for Central's Art and Industrial Art Department.

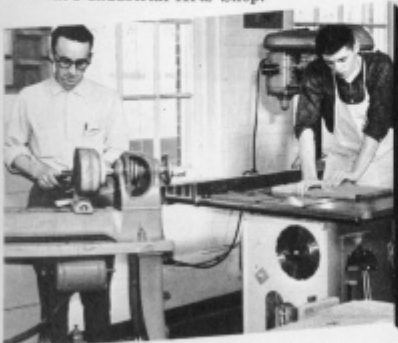

Individual exhibitions in art shows throughout the Northwest were Romona Solberg's jewelry pieces, Edward Haines' various paintings, Louis Kollmeyer's crafts, and John Fassbinder's pottery and paintings which gained him national praise.

Presently, Frank Bach and Reino Randall are at work on a film dealing with mosaics for schools, and Mr. Randall and Mr. Haines have just published a book called "Bulletin Boards and Display".

Those not pictured are: Louis Kollmeyer, Prof. of Art, Ed.D.; Wilhelm Bakke, Assoc. Prof. of Industrial Arts, M.S.; George Sogge, Assoc. Prof. of Industrial Arts, M.A.; and Charles Vleck, Asst. Prof. of Industrial Arts, M.S.

Many excellent objects of woodcraft come from Central's Industrial Arts Shop.

CAST

"Other people are quite dreadful; the only possible society is oneself."

Oscar Wilde

Central's "oneself" society is its living groups. They provide the stages upon which Central's Cast of Students enact their daily drama. Students have chances to star in roles ranging from the tense drama of SGA Council meetings, through the rollicking comedy of dunking sprees in the Grupe Center pool, to romantic good-nights as closing hour draws near. All the actors mingle in group scenes such as Commons Dining Hall on Sunday

DIXON MANOR

"DIXON DOLLIES" . . . with their lollipops and ribbons began a successful year for DIXON MANOR, the smallest and newest women's dormitory on campus.

Participation in choral competition, exchanges with smaller men's dormitories, and sponsorship of an all college mixer during winter quarter have helped to establish DIXON MANOR as an organized living group.

The leading ladies of DIXON: Carole Anne Cox, Pres.; Sharon Johnson, Vice Pres.; Diane Mace, Social Comm.; Judy Fast, Sec-Treas.; Joyce Russell, S.G.A. Rep.; and Pat Downing, Hist.

KENNEDY HALL

THE RED CROSS . . . was benefitted a great deal during Initiation Week by KENNEDY HALL frosh, who made dolls for children.

Between firesides with Wilson, Whitney, and the prefabs, the KENNEDY girls worked on their third-place Homecoming float. They then gave a dinner for Carmody men for their assistance with the float. Pixie Week, a Christmas party, and Choral Competition rounded out Fall Quarter.

During Winter and Spring, the KENNEDY women centered their activity on an all-college mixer, a private, a banquet, and a car wash.

MUNSON HALL

SUCCESS . . . and winning are appropriate words describing MUNSON HALL this year. The MUNSON girls initiated the school year by winning the first place trophy for Orientation Activities. One of the most outstanding activities responsible for this honor was the making of viviograms for the retarded children at Cascade School, a tradition-establishing event.

The leading ladies of MUNSON: Rose Hadaller, Pres.; Jean Barrick, Vice Pres.; Sandy Lewis, Sec.; Barbara Moore, Treas.; Betty Larson, SGA Rep.; Charlotte Wright, Social Comm.; Nancy Niemi, Hist.; and Wisten Thomsen, Hall Proctor.

Finalists await judging of Munson's Miss Sian Contest; the winner . . . No. 77

NORTH HALL

"AUTUMN LEAVES" . . . was the theme of NORTH HALL'S traditional all college dance, which featured the "Corvettes" this year. During initiation activities, the men of NORTH HALL sponsored an all-freshman mixer, adding a great deal to Orientation Week. Homecoming brought the NORTH men with both a sign and float bearing the theme, "Boll Weevil."

Two functions for NORTH men only were an ice cream feed and a Christmas party. NORTH HALL also sponsored an all college square dance during Fall Quarter. Winter Quarter brought "Winter Wonderland," an all-college semi-formal.

The remainder of the school year was filled with interdormitory parties, ice cream and hamburger feeds, and exchanges with the women's dorms on campus.

NORTH'S leading men: Bill Ritchie, President; Dennis Bunch, Vice President; George Westergaard, Secretary; Dick Jacobson, Treasurer; Chuck Curtis, SGA Representative; Bob Snyder, Dining Hall Representative; Tom Hudson and Roy Hall, Sergeants at Arms; Gerry Grill and Larry Utzinger, MIA Representatives.

Housemother: Mrs. K. Smith
President: Bill Ritchie

President: Jim Nelson

OFF CAMPUS

THE NEWLY ORGANIZED OFF CAMPUS living group was determined to become more a part of campus life this year and it succeeded.

STEPHENS HALL

THIRD PLACE . . . in the Homecoming Sign competition went to STEPHENS HALL, one of the largest and newest men's dorms on campus. Another honor for STEPHENS was the Freshman Activities trophy during Orientation Week. Also, STEPHENS men placed second in the annual Turkey Trot.

The Mad Hatter's Dance, given by STEPHENS during Winter Quarter, exchanges and parties with other dorms, and participation in campus affairs keep this dorm well established on campus.

The leading men of STEPHENS: Jim Spence, President; Jerry Wamsley, Vice President; Vern Milliken, Secretary; Ted Donswal, Treasurer; Sam Wong, SGA Representative; Bob Darrigan and Ron Carlsen, Social Commissioners.

SUE LOMBARD HALL

THREE BEAUTYMARKS . . . of all SUE LOMBARD women are friendship, service, and loyalty, which were evident in their activities throughout the year. The biggest project for Fall Qtr. was the acquisition of a stereo set. Activities at Christmas included Pixie Week, parties, caroling, and helping the needy. Winter and Spring were filled with dorm improvement activities, privates, and a farewell dance.

SUE'S leading ladies: Barbara Bennett, Pres.; Alice Lord, Vice Pres.; Ellen Matz, Secretary; Joyce Bishop, Treasurer; Paulette Ellingson, SGA Representative; Lucy Schmidt, Social Commissioner; Mary Baird, Historian; Penny Amos, Asst. Soc. Comm.; Pat Deane, Courtesy Comm.; and Irene Larsen, Dining Hall Representative.

WEST HALL

ANTLER'S HOTEL . . . or WEST HALL was used again this year as extra space for men's living quarters was needed.

Being far from campus and hampered somewhat by their size, the living group has a handicap in the activities of the campus. However, they have sponsored a mixer with Dixon Hall and have had a party with Mr. and Mrs. West, the owners of Antler's.

In spite of the inconvenience, the men of WEST are not disappointed — they enjoy the quiet that is sometimes lacking in a regular dormitory.

The WEST HALL men have proved that it really doesn't matter what hall you're from, it's the individual that makes himself known.

The leading men of WEST: Tom Hudson, Pres.; Duane Wheeler, Vice Pres.; Colin Hergert, Sec-Treas.; Donald Rolfs, SGA Rep.; Norman Hokkanen, Social Comm.

Antlers Hotel was used again this year to accommodate men students.

WHITNEY HALL

LOYALTY AND SPIRIT are the key words to WHITNEY HALL'S contribution to the activities on the Central campus. Winning the Turkey Trot, and entering most of the Intramural sports events established the men of WHITNEY as men of action with a lively spirit of competition. Exchanges with Kennedy Hall, Kamola Hall, and Sue Lombard Hall rounded out their social calendar. The special event was a spaghetti dinner at the Posse House on December first.

WILSON HALL

THE COMPETITIVE SPIRIT . . . was extremely prevalent among the men of WILSON HALL this year. WILSON men were present at every contest held on campus, organized in number and thought. They placed second in the Tug of War, tied for first with their Homecoming float titled "Show Boat," tied for first also in the MIA football tournament, and placed fourth in the Turkey Trot. Exchanges and parties added to the year's fun.

The leading men: Bob Torney, Pres.; Don Pratt, Vice Pres.; Ken Moser, Sec.; Bob Precht, Treasurer; Gary Plews, SGA Representative; Mike Tucker and Gerald Horne, Social Commissioners.

PROLOGUE

"Among mortals, second thoughts are wisest."
Euripides

And so the 1962 Hyakem takes a second look at the closing events of last Spring quarter before recording this year's happenings. Our prologue includes memories of "Lady Precious Stream," the Installation of our new Student Government Administration, the fun of "Roman Holiday" and Sweezy Day picnicking, the ROTC Spring Review, and many other occurrences which made last Spring quarter worth remembering.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association's activities have been widely varied and very effective this past year. Fundamentally, the SGA has centered its aims on change and revision.

New direction of student government built on the premise that political education must deal with activities beyond the campus to be effective was one of the changes in idea.

Another of the revisions was a new philosophy in activities, based on the fact that a school of Central's size cannot program for the majority and expect complete attendance, but must attempt to have many different types of activities and plan on partial attendance.

Still another change that went into effect this year was the revision of the methods of elections. Among the major changes was a nominating convention to replace filing for candidacy, each living group having one voting delegate for every ten members and no group having less than five delegates. Also, there was more stress on issues and platforms than in previous years.

The SGA brought Centralites such high-class entertainment as the Limelites and Louis Armstrong.

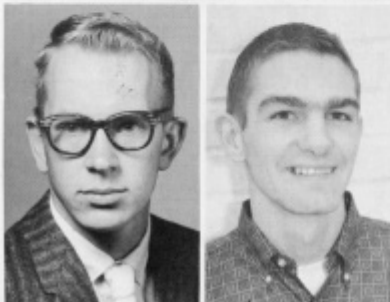

Honor Council, the Student Judicial Board, is comprised of students who are elected to their office in the spring along with the other SGA officers.

Below, from top to bottom, are Roberta Schwark, Treasurer; Mary Hooper, Secretary; and Mick Barrus, Vice-President.

We believe that a college must furnish not only occupational training but also training for future citizens, and that a vigorous and effective SGA involving students in campus, national and international decisions and affairs is a vital part of the educational process of CWSC. Since the extent to which we've succeeded in providing this type of SGA must be measured relatively, we ask only that you remember, in this book of memories, that we've tried and that we are grateful for an extremely memorable experience.

CURT PICKETT
SGA President

LADY PRECIOUS STREAM

The traditional Chinese Theatre was brought to Central through the production of the spring play, "Lady Precious Stream."

Centralites were intrigued and gradually came to appreciate the new ideas and customs introduced by the actors and director, Milo Smith. No scenery, very typical quiet and smooth mannerisms, and supposedly unseen prop-men were some of the many differences to be accepted before the play could be completely enjoyed. "Lady Precious Stream" was truly an enlightening experience for actors as well as audiences.

ROMAN

Picnicking in the Ellensburg City Park remained a part of Sweezy Day's Roman Holiday celebration.

Wilson Hall's charioteers pose with first place plaque.

A live panorama of "Old Rome" was very evident on campus for Sweezy Day last spring. Everyone donned their best toga and began a special day of many memories. A picnic, a spectacular chariot race, a variety show and a dance filled the entire "Roman Holiday" with excitement and fun.

Joan Pratt, general chairman and chief originator of the new idea for Central's Sweezy Day, with all who helped and contributed, made the "Roman Holiday" a popular and memorable success.

HOLIDAY IN SWEECY LAND

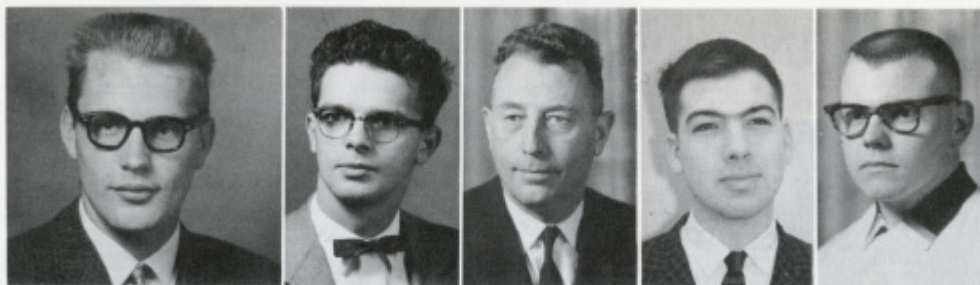

The Grand Procession into the arena recalled the spectacles of a real "Roman Holiday."

The arrival of the torch carried by Mike Hanford opened the Imperial Arena events.

James Lindquist, Don Cummings, Dr. Odell, Bob Purser, and Jerry Hendrickson were the original founders of INSCAPE.

In the Spring of 1961, the first publication of INSCAPE, the intellectual magazine on campus, was released. Students, faculty, and the community received INSCAPE with great readiness. The artistic talents that go into the make-up of INSCAPE are rarely surpassed. The INSCAPE staff grew from an English club and originated the idea of a magazine to display some of the abilities of the students. It has proved the ability and enthusiasm of Central's English Department.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS RE-CHARTERED

Central's chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights was re-chartered this year into a very serviceable and respected group. The sophomore boys' national honorary has proved that an enthusiastic and loyal spirit is all that is needed to found an organization such as theirs.

The major Intercollegiate Knight event of the year was the convention held on campus during fall quarter. This activity helped immensely to establish the Central Intercollegiate Knights as a working chapter. The purpose of this convention was to choose a Grand Duchess and check the constitution for the National Convention to be held in Texas in the Spring.

Other services rendered by this group were such things as selling, ushering, and serving for student government activities. Also, the I.K.'s collaborated with their sister group, the Spurs, to sponsor the Homecoming Dance.

SPRING QUARTER AT SWEECY

Central Washington College hosted one of the largest sports events in the Evergreen Conference. More than 200 athletes were in Ellensburg for the two-day meeting.

Central's baseball team experienced a strong three-way tie for the Eastern Division title with Whitworth and Eastern. Whitworth won the title in a play-off game.

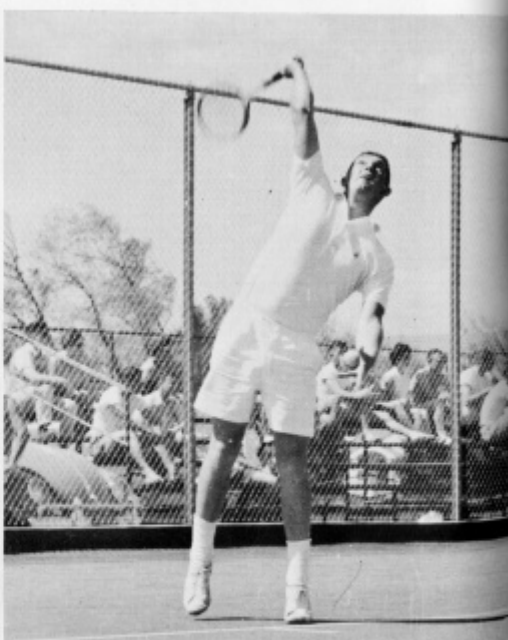

The Wildcats went into the track meet undefeated, but two key men were injured and cost Beamer a possible championship, as Central was just two points behind the winners.

The six-member tennis team won the Evergreen Conference tennis championship over last year's champions, Whitworth, who placed second this year.

G. B. Shaw

Act I exemplifies the joy of life at Central, for Fall quarter proved to be a time for much activity, fun, and intelligent thought. Over 2300 students found time to discuss the Angolan situation and the possibility of raising money to finance the education of an Angolan student, to dance the "twist" and listen to the music of the "Corvettes", and to cheer the winning Wildcats at the annual Homecoming game. Some found even Shakespeare enjoyable.

SPURS AID IN REGISTRATION

The sophomore girls honorary group contributed their first service of the year by helping with the registration of approximately 2,350 students who enrolled this year. It was a common sight to see a bewildered freshman being directed by a girl in white to a specific place on campus or from one long line to another.

The Spur organization at Central is one of the many chapters in the West whose chief objective is to serve the college and set an example for the students.

INITIATION STARTS OFF THE YEAR

As in past years, the people of Ellensburg welcomed new and old students by sponsoring a pancake feed in the middle of town. Every year, the crowds flock to enjoy the huge and delicious pancakes while seated upon bales of hay. Another feature of the day was a raffle contest in which the businesses give away a few items of their merchandise — a very good way to familiarize the students with the town.

The remainder of the week was filled with initiation of the freshmen. Each dormitory assigned certain outfits and odd jobs to all of its freshmen, such as painting, cleaning, and serving the upper classmen in various ways. Also, the freshmen were compelled to participate in odd activities such as dances at six o'clock in the morning, sitting on each others' laps at meals, and eating with knives. However, at the end of the week, most of the new students agreed they had had a very wonderful experience.

Initiation provided an effective way to help the new students help themselves become acquainted with college life as well as with the people involved.

Students enthusiastically approve Ellensburg community's pancake and sausage breakfast.

FROSH TALENT SHOW

The Freshman Talent Show was the climax of Initiation Week. Marilyn Palmer organized the incoming talent into a very entertaining production.

The main attraction was the introduction of Big George and the Corvettes, a new and exciting dance band, to Central. After this first appearance, they were boosted to popularity and definitely established themselves as top entertainment on campus.

The Corvettes, with the other fresh and unique talent new to the college, such as a magician act, a folk singing girls' trio, and a Hawaiian dancer combined to provide a very entertaining evening for everyone.

(L) "Presto" said the magician and the new campus talent, the Corvettes, appeared.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

To learn, appreciate, and more fully understand the purposes and principles of the United Nations is the purpose of the Model United Nations Club.

The club's major activity is the High School M.U.N. Conference held on campus in early fall, (Above). The members attended a college-level M.U.N. Conference, this year held at San Diego in April, representing Denmark.

Ya'all come to the Southern Plantation! This was the theme of Homecoming, one of the biggest events of the entire year.

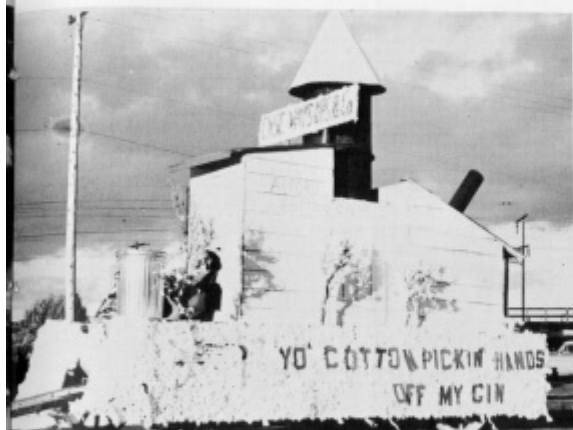

Homecoming is a function that requires everyone's attention and hard work. This year all were enthusiastic; therefore, the week-end proved to be even bigger and better than previous ones.

The Homecoming Talent Show, one of the major portions of the program, was directed by Tarry Clifton, who also acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. The entire production was centered around a Southern garden party with Tarry's guests performing for the party's entertainment. Miss Clifton did an excellent job of organizing and staging.

John Finley's unique jazz style(L), the dancing 10 Little Men(C), and Dave Sanford's folk songs(R) provided a wide range of variety for the show.

IN 1961

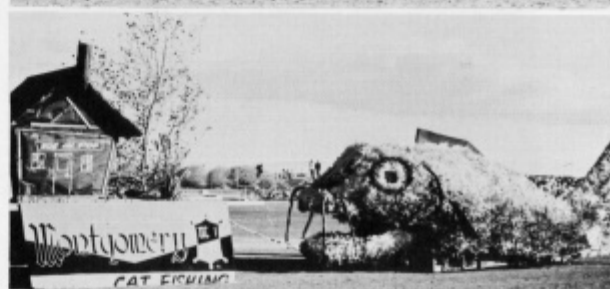

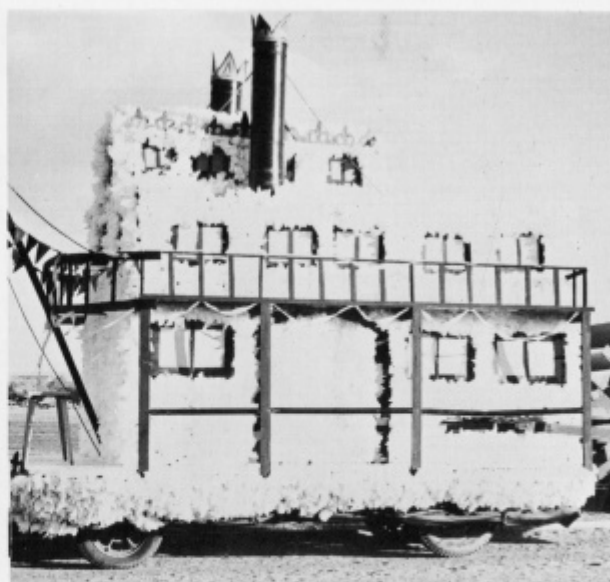

Second place in float competition went to Alford Hall's "Cotton Gin."

Saturday was the day of the parade with all of the float entries displaying the work and talent that went into their construction. Other events that filled the day were the Homecoming game, open house, and, in the evening, the Plantation Ball.

Ellensburg seemed to change over night as the alumni returned to renew old memories.

(L) Stephens Hall's "Br'r Rabbit" won third. Alpha Psi Omega's "Southern Theatre," second.

Wilson's Steamboat and Montgomery's "Cat Fishing" floats tied for first in parade competition.

Elwood's "Robert E. Lee" was awarded first place in the Homecoming sign competition.

The music of Claude Gordon's band helped make the Homecoming Dance a success.

The C.W.S.C. Band displayed their precision and talents by performing on the field during half time of the Homecoming game. Some very clever ideas witnesses for them their ability to work and their enthusiasm. Even though the weather was chilly, a large crowd was present to watch the thrilling game. After the half, the game began again and the Wildcats rolled the Loggers over in a game with an ending score of thirty-three to twenty-one.

FOOTBALL GAME AND DANCE END

Also during half time of the Homecoming game, the queen and two princesses of the 1961 Homecoming made an appearance. That evening, the holiday came to a close with the Homecoming dance. Held in the CUB ballroom and again with the presence of the three lovely regal girls, the formal ball was a big success.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR ROYALTY

The Homecoming Queen, Betty Larsen (above), and the two Princesses, Tarry Clifton (top photo on right) and Mary Lee Colby (top photo, left), brightened the scene at all activities. Although the week-end was possibly one of the busiest they'll ever spend, the girls looked and acted wonderful at all times; a good representation of Central.

To promote interest in Home Economics as a profession and to preserve values that are significant in home life are the present aims of the Home Economics Club at Central.

Among other things such as preparing and presenting a Christmas basket and having a banquet for the club on January 15, 1962, the members' major activity was selling MUMS for the Homecoming events.

ENGLISH CLUB BECOMES FORUM

The English Forum is an informal group of students and faculty interested in adding to its knowledge of literature and education. It is open to both students in Arts and Sciences as well as education. In the past year the group has discussed

Hemingway, symbolism in literature, grammar in the high schools and college, and Russian literature.

The purpose of the Young Democrats Club is to better inform the students of CWSC of the basic beliefs and actions of the Democratic Party of the U.S., to aid in the election of Democrats to public office and help them to carry out their programs, to represent the world's oldest organized political party and the nation's majority party on this campus, to be a meeting place for students to discuss the major issues that face both students and the future of the U.S.

In February, the members of Young Democrats attended the State Young Democrats' Convention in Wenatchee. They also aided with the Fulton Lewis III- John Darrah debate. (Darrah at right)

"The Littlest Angel" was presented by Orchesis and the Crimson Corals as a Christmas water ballet. The production was directed by Miss Zenor, Central's dance instructor, and the technical work to stage the ballet was handled by Mike Hanford.

The Orchesis Dance Group was privileged to be asked to participate in the 1962 World's Fair.

The activities of these two groups add much flavor and variety for the enjoyment of the Central students.

SIGMA MU EPSILON

The honorary music organization at Central provides the campus with many services, the major and most popular one being choral competition at Christmastime. This year, the winners of choral competition were: Kamola Hall for the women's large group, the Off Campus Trio, making their first appearance, for the women's small group, Montgomery Hall for the men's large group, and Elwood Manor for the men's small group.

Sigma Mu Epsilon was established as an organization to help further musical knowledge and allow members to contribute to the musical interests on campus. To become a part of Sigma Mu, a student must have a high grade average in music courses and be chosen by majority vote of the standing member.

Other activities that the members of Sigma Mu enter into are organizing many chamber groups and ushering at all student recitals, community concerts, and other musical events.

The officers of Sigma Mu Epsilon this year were Ray Johnson, President; Marsh Pancheau, Vice-President; Sue Schneckloth, Secretary; Bob Shefner, Treasurer; Marilyn Palmer, Historian; and Bob Montgomery and Beth Dawson, Social Committee.

An added improvement for the past year, the SGA brought the Central campus some outstanding personalities through the "Speaker in the Union" program. Above, Giovanni Costigan talks on the House of Un-American Activities. Below Mr. Costigan, Mr. Fred Decker enlightens the students with information about fallout shelters.

In the fall, the Central band hosts a number of high school bands for a full day in which the bands perform at a home game. At the right, Eisenhower's band shows its good form.

Angus Bowmer was another speaker the campus was lucky enough to host. His topic was "Shakespeare Today" which worked in quite well with the Central production, "The Merchant of Venice." Above, the Speech and Drama professors discuss the miniature Shakespearean stage built by Richard Davis.

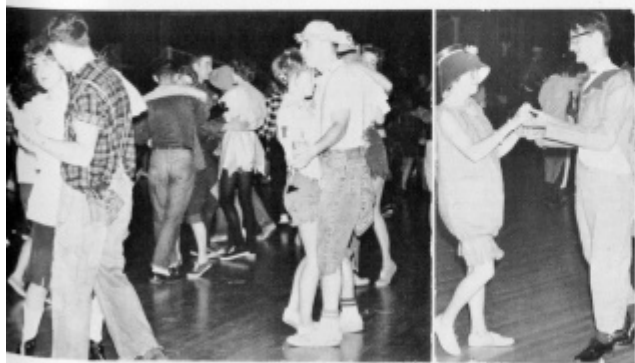

OTHER ACTIVITIES BRIGHTEN FALL QUARTER

Central students have witnessed this year the construction of one of Central's largest buildings—the new women's residence hall. The dormitory, on the northeast section of the campus, is predicted to be ready for occupation in the fall of 1962. It will be a much needed asset to the college (Above)

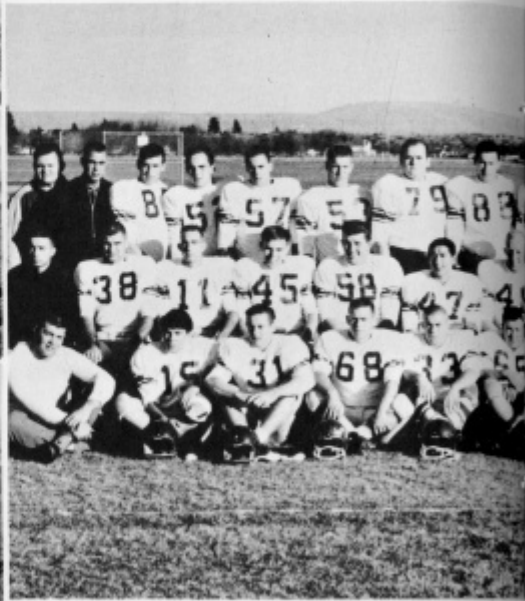

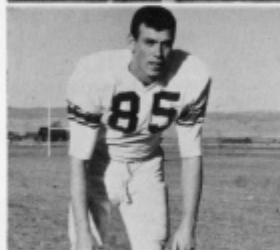

Among the outstanding activities during the year was the highly competitive Turkey Trot. Also, a dance full of fun was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. (Below, 1.) At center are Pat McCulloch and Lynn Helsinger dancing in appropriate apparel for the dance.

Also, during fall quarter, the SGA brought Centralites and the people of Ellensburg the very outstanding trio—the Limelites. The folk-singing group was received with overwhelming exuberance by the audience. Entertainers from the Hungri i also appeared on campus.

With fifteen lettermen returning to the grid-iron and an additional forty-four men to aid them, the Wildcats started the season well.

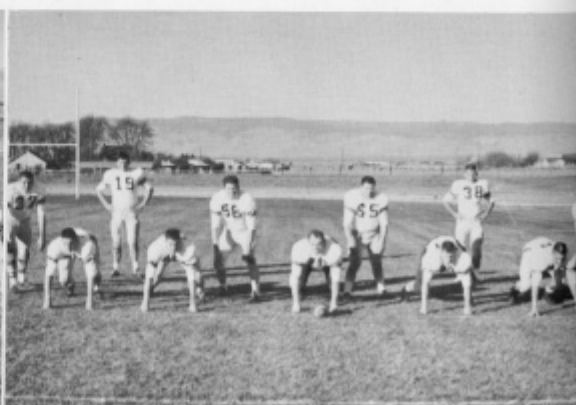

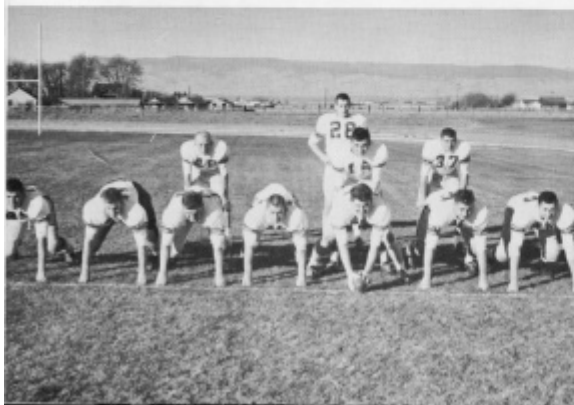

Coach Adrian Beamer led the Cats to their first victory when they downed Whitman college 19-0.

Whitman had control of the ball sixteen times but only got within the Central territory once.

In the second game, favored Whitworth was on the short end of a 33-14 score when the Cats stopped the Bucs aerial attack. Central out-gained the visitor in yardage by 356 to 155.

SEASON SHOWS HARD WORK — MANY VICTORIES

The Cats made it three in a row when they scalped the Eastern Savages by 35-0. The only threat by Eastern was in the third quarter when they studded down to the one foot mark, where the Cats took over the ball on downs.

The Central team tallied their fourth straight win as they walked over the P.L.U. Knights in a 35-7 contest.

Wildcats again won, this time with Western who had been tied for first with Central. The score was: Wildcats, 19; Vikings, 13. This game put the Centralites on top with a record of five wins and no losses.

The U.P.S. Loggers fell to the Wildcats, 33-21, in the annual Homecoming game. A large crowd watched the Cats get off to a slow start but in the third quarter they started rolling and after that they couldn't be stopped.

Whitworth broke the Wildcat winning streak in a heart-breaking 21-19 game.

Central ended the regular league season with a win over Eastern by 20 points and cinched the conference title. This was the first time since 1958 when we tied with Western.

The Central team lost to Humbolt State in their last game by 10 points.

Summings up the scoring we find: Rath and Redden with seven touchdowns each; Fitterer, six; Kapp, four; Ellis, three; Ishida, two; and Betcher, Curtright, Hurt, Buckner, Harvey, and Levar had one each.

ACT II

"Now is the winter of our discontent . . ."
Shakespeare

To some extent Winter quarter was a period of discontent, as over 300 students filled the CUB to learn why a noted Communist leader could not be heard on campus and to protest infringement of academic freedom. Discontent was reflected again in the popular support of Clyde, a dog, in the Student Government elections. But Winter was not all discontent, for the students were enchanted by the melodies of "Brigadoon", and Military Ball.

The cast above included, standing: P. Ferguson, B. Cable, D. Torrey, D. Carr, E. Irwin. Seated: D. Thacker, M. Engel, M. E. Ames, D. Daniel, L. Keck, L. Hewins, and K. Torrey.

STUDENT DIRECTS CHILDREN'S PLAY

The annual Children's play was presented this year under the direction of student Tarry Clifton with Milo Smith as supervising director. "Emperor's Nightingale" was the production done in traditional Chinese theatre style with few props and colorful costumes. The cast of the all-college play performed for Yakima audiences as well as doing two shows for the people of Ellensburg.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega entered the Homecoming sign contest with the "Old Southern Melodrama Theatre" and presented short melodramas on the stage-shaped sign which won second place. Most of the remaining portion of the year was devoted to the revision of the constitutional amendments. New members were initiated at the end of winter quarter and mid-spring quarter.

Alpha Psi sponsored a reception for the members of the "Brigadoon" cast in the Grupe Center following the final performance and another reception was held backstage when the new college dimmer board, installed this year, was officially approved. During Spring quarter, reading presentations were given by Marilyn Lawler and Richard Davis. Also, a pantomime evening by Mike Hanford was a featured performance.

SGA HOLDS CONVENTION

A suspension of the bi-laws of the Student Government Association's constitution led to the first nominating convention at Central. The convention proved a success and an interesting and exciting experience for all participants.

The votes at the nominating convention were as follows: for treasurer, Ruth Friebeus, 19; Richard Jacobsen, 122; and Toni Rydman, 30. For secretary, Pat Johnson, 92; and Kathy Drebeck, 82. For vice-president, Jim Mattis, 77; and Bob Moawad, 96. For SGA President, Richard Davis, 32; Soren Sorenson, 41; and Mick Barrus, 91. Clyde, the dog who was a write-in candidate for president, and Bob Beirdsley, representing "the men from the North" added flavor and fun to the election.

ALPHA PHI HELPS AT ELECTIONS

Alpha Phi Omega's activities during the year 1961-62 included guided tours around the campus for visitors, aiding with senior day, orientation week, Sweezy day, and registration, ushering during the nominating convention, and sponsoring various cleanup drives.

One of their biggest projects was to spark up interest and get new chapters in the state started. Also, the Eta Xi chapter Central worked towards sponsoring a Boy Scouts career day on campus. Besides aiding with the 1962 blood drive, the members of Central's APO helped various other clubs and living groups in putting on dances and other functions.

The officers for first quarter were: Weston P. Kries, Pres.; Dennis Hubbard, Vice-Pres.; Ron R. Lundberg, Sec.; William Craig, Treas. For the second and third quarters: Dennis Hubbard, Pres.; Jay Haney, Vice-Pres.; Jim Allison, Sec.; Dennis Hamling, Treas. Chairman of the advisory board was Dr. E. E. Samuelson and members of the advisory board were Dr. Albert Weissberg, and Prof. Clifford Wolfsehr.

CUPID'S INFORMAL HELD

Cupid's Informal, the annual dance sponsored by the pre-fabs was enjoyed this year as it has been in past years.

Elwood Manor nearly monopolized the candidacy for King Cupid. The competitors for the title were Al Schuster, top center; Ed Dooley, top right; Duane Bangs, center middle; Bill Ritchie, right middle; Jerry Lowe, center bottom; and Jack Curt-right, right bottom.

Ed Dooley, an associate member of Elwood was crowned King Cupid for 1962 at the dance.

"BRIGADOON"

Don Doerflinger, as Harry Beaton, performs the strenuous and difficult sword dance, one of the most climactic highlights of the show.

After the sword dance, Jean, the new bride, portrayed by Eleanor Jones, is forced to dance with jealous Beaton, ending in a powerful fight scene.

The mist of "Brigadoon" settled on the Central campus last winter quarter when the Drama, Music, and Art departments combined their efforts to produce the musical, "Brigadoon."

The story is of two Americans, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas, who stumble onto a very peculiar town called "Brigadoon." Peculiar, because of the fact that every night in the town covered a century of time in the outside world. Tommy fell

The chase scene, in which the men of Brigadoon go after Beaton who has threatened to leave Brigadoon, thus ending its existence, carry Harry back on stage after his death.

The first spark of a relationship is established by Tommy and Fiona, played by Martin Campbell and Nancy Cook, while discussing gathering "Heather on the Hill".

Charlie, Jean's intended, played by Gary Lawler, sings "Come to Me, Bend to Me" to his soon-to-be bride.

ENCHANTS CAPACITY AUDIENCES

Mr. Lundie (Tom Reeves) is the oldest person in Brigadoon and tells Fiona (Polly Davison), Tommy (Gayle Pinkston), and Jeff (Milton Jones) of the miracle of Brigadoon.

McConnachy Square provided many settings for the merriment and gaiety of the People of Brigadoon. Here, Charlie, played by Fred Hammack, tells in his song of the changes he'll be having to make upon getting married to "Bonnie Jean."

in love with Fiona, but not quite able to face the new idea of Brigadoon, leaves with Jeff for America where Jane Ashton, Tommy's fiancée is waiting. However, Tommy canna do it, and returns to Scotland to awaken Brigadoon and become a part of it forever.

The show was double cast because of the excess of talented people capable of handling the lead roles. Polly Davison and Nancy Cook played Fiona, Martin Campbell and Gayle Pinkston were Tommys, and Gary Lawler and Fred Hammack portrayed the Charlies.

Milo Smith, the drama director, Dr. Wayne Hertz, director of singing and orchestration, Mina Zenor, Dance instructor and choreographer, and Miss Solberg's art inspirations gave the show the needed framework and polish that made it a bright and worthy production.

The opening scene finds two Americans, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas, lost somewhere in the countryside of Scotland. Their conversation is interrupted by a dull mist rising suddenly and voices singing "Brigadoon."

Meg Brockie, played by Linda Smith, is the man chaser of the little town of Brigadoon. She tells Jeff her tales of experience; he actually couldn't care less—all he wants to do is go to sleep.

KCAT GOES FM AS KCWS

The purpose of the Radio/T.V. Guild is to further interest in radio and T.V. production and improve the quality of production and to provide opportunities for practical experience.

Members can be anyone interested in Radio/T.V. production. KCAT, the campus radio station, is handled by this group. They are on the air three hours a night from eight to eleven, Sunday through Friday, and seven to eight a.m. on weekdays.

Some of their main local features are Focus on Central, Central's Week, nightly concert hour, which ties in with Music 100 listening requirements, nightly features drawn from the National Association of Education Broadcasters, and Radio Network (education, cultural features drawn from all major areas of interest).

C.W.S. PLANS ACTIVE MEETINGS

Central Women Students, organized in 1955, provides social activity for the mature women students.

No other college in the state offers such an opportunity for women who have returned to the campus to complete their education.

The meetings, informal and for the purpose of friendship among members, are held the first Thursday of every month.

Two scholarships, financed by the alumni of the organization, are offered each year to deserving members of the group.

Fun and fellowship highlight C.W.S. activity.

MILITARY BALL

The Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps sponsored many trips to various Air Force Bases in Washington this year. Their Spring Review was also a big success. However, the main ROTC event was the Military Ball, held winter quarter. The annual Ball is the only formal dance on campus and students flock to it with great anxiety.

The candidates for Military Ball Queen were Zoe Nagrodski, Gay Winchell, Jan Nelson, Nicki

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB BECOMES MORE ACTIVE

Central's Psychology Club provides a time and place for students to express their special interests and abilities concerning the field of psychology. Any psychology major or minor has a good chance to learn and better understand his field by joining this club. This year the club featured many guest speakers, including Dr. Brown, M.D., who spoke on hypnosis. Also, faculty members and students themselves spoke at times. One of the main social events sponsored by the club was a dance held in April. The psychology members worked towards getting staff members from other institutions to speak on various subjects. Even though one of the Psych. Club's main objectives is to augment the formal classroom's experiences, the meetings are open to the public.

WHITBECK-SHAW

The Whitbeck-Shaw Geography Club is open to anyone wishing to stimulate their interests in the field of geography. Monthly meetings and programs on various areas of the world are augmented with participation in field trips to local areas and sites.

ROW ONE, LEFT TO RIGHT: J. Staples, Vice Pres.; C. Baird, Sec-Treas.; J. Stoltman, Pres. ROW TWO, LEFT TO RIGHT: H. Bryant, J. Wycaver, R. J. Sule, L. Raab, and C. Mackey. ABOVE RIGHT: Joe Stoltman, President.

The Business Economics Club brings many businessmen to the Central campus to acquaint the interested business and economics majors and minors with a little of the business world. Some of the speakers were from such well-known establishments as Penny and Co., and a representative from the Puget Sound Power and Light visited Central twice.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

The crowds cheered as students held up campaign signs for Bob Moawad during the Pep Rally for the candidates of SGA offices.

SPURS, the sophomore girls' honorary, brought something new to the Central campus. The girls sponsored an "Ugly Man Dance" at which the most ugly man on campus is made a "king." Entries for the ugly man were: from top to bottom at right, Elwood, Alford, Montgomery, North, Munro, and Whitney.

Elwood's Kidnap Dance caused a lot of fun and frenzy as girls were snatched from their daily routines to enjoy a pleasurable evening at Elwood Manor.

WILDCAT

Plagued by seasonal illnesses and injuries, the Central Washington College cagers finished in a fourth place tie in the Evergreen Conference with a 4-6 record, and a 11-11 season record and a non-conference 7-7 record.

In post-season Evergreen Conference tournament action, the Wildcats faced a cycle of bad luck and ended up anchoring last place.

Coach Leo Nicholson had a starting quintet made up of four lettermen and one freshman. The lone starting freshman, Jim Clifton, led all scorers with a 14.3 average. It seemed he bucketed the bouncy ball from here, there, and everywhere.

Clifton, an ex-Puyallup prep star, was equally strong on defense and thwarted many opponents' efforts.

Letterman Phil Fitterer was second ranking scorer with an 11.4 average. Fitterer also took top honors from the charity line and hit on 77.9 per cent.

Leading rebounders were veteran Ray Kinnaman and Harold Riggan, a junior college transfer, who performed well under the basket. Kinnaman was high with an 8.63 average and Riggan followed with an even 7.00.

Veterans who finished their basketball career with the Wildcats this season include Fitterer, Kinnaman, Sigler, McLean, and Kellman.

Fitterer was voted Honorary Captain of the cage team and Doug McLean received the Inspirational Award.

The Wildcats played one of their top games of the season in a home court stand against Chapman College, but lost 62-58. The Orange, Calif., quintet, second rated team in its state, found the Wildcats a tough host to dispose of. When Central grabbed a 34-31 halftime margin, the California Panthers suffered their first loss in halftime leadership of the season.

RECREATION CLUB

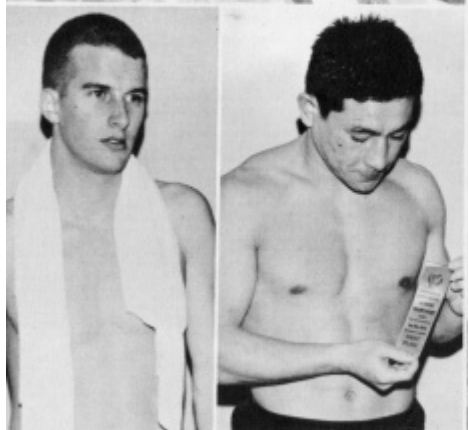

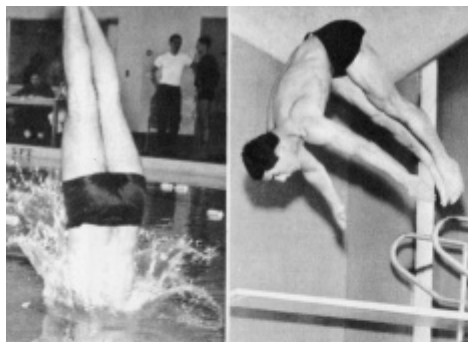

The Recreation Club, composed of majors and minors interested in professional recreation jobs, is in charge of Co-Ree and its management on Saturdays. Other activities which are sponsored by the Recreation Club are these: a Christmas Party for the handicapped children of Ellensburg, a "thinking day" program for the Central Washington Girl Scout Council, and recreational activities for organizations who call upon the club for advice or help. The officers are Bill Skeels, Pres.; (at left) Bill Morrison, Vice-Pres.; and Shirley Dobey, Sec-Treas. Miss McCabe advises the group.

The Central Washington swimming Wildcats were almost within reach of racking up a more promising record than the scorebook indicates, which showed at the season's end only two wins in nine starts for the Cats.

But during the Evergreen Conference Swimming Meet, held in Central's pavilion pool, the hosting Wildcats splashed ahead to a second place finish, edging out the third place runner-up by six points.

Kim Kay, a freshman to the Central club, rung up the only first for the Cats in the 200 yard breaststroke.

Central's defending champion diver Bill Ishida, lost out in the one meter diving event by less than three points.

Coached by Harold Fieldman, the youthful swimming group, though only in their third season, fell short of improving over the 1961 season record of 1.5. But the balance of power was in their favor during the conference meet, which saw the water Cats step ahead and wipe out the third place slot gained in the 1961 conference contest.

A steadily improved group of Central Washington Wildcat grapplers, coached by Eric Beardsley, posted an encouraging 7-5 record for the 1961-62 season, and finished a few paces ahead of last season's 5-5 records.

As the Cats grunted and groaned through their second full season of varsity competition, they were matched against some of the more seasoned clubs on the Pacific Coast. But as the record reads, the Central group stopped the opposition for a "Cats" share of the victories in 12 attempts.

With the new sport beginning to draw more interest, Beardsley will likely have a larger selection of talent to work with, which should equal in future seasons, a more experienced and seasoned Wildcat team.

If some of the results showed by newcomers this season is any criteria to judge the team's future ability, the outlook for coming seasons points to the Wildcats as a tough competitor among small colleges.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

MIA had a busy year with tournaments including football, handball, basketball, a Cross Country Turkey Trot, volleyball, table tennis, badminton, and swimming.

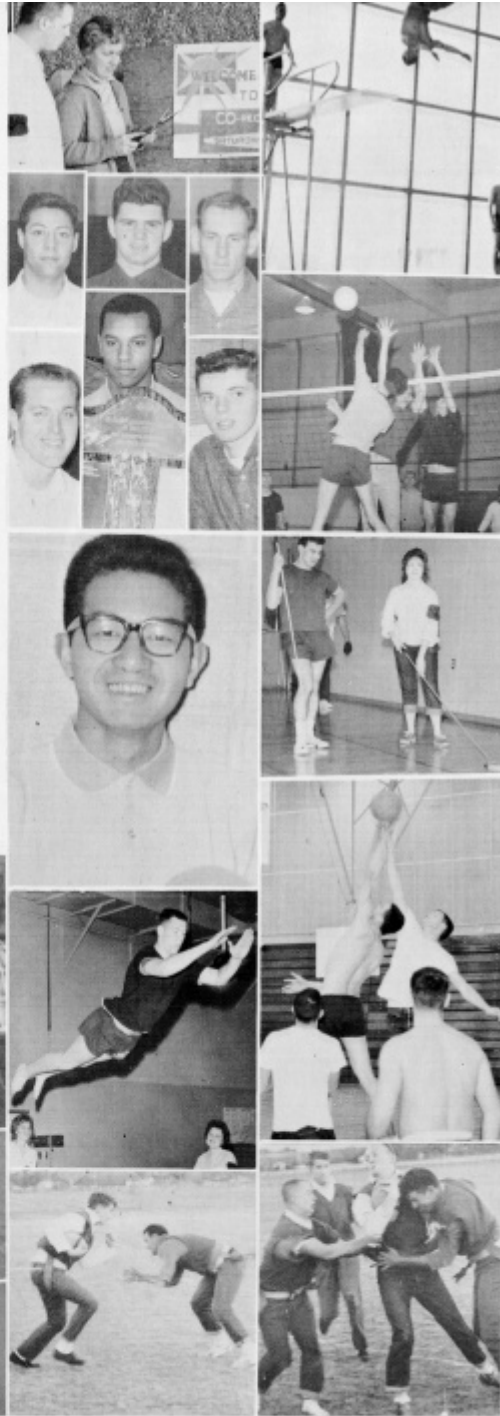

Alford Hall and Wilson Hall tied for the MIA National Football League Championship. Other activities included handball in which the winners of the Peterson-Peatobe vs. DiaPaolo-Ebally game played Katzer-Anderson for the championship.

CO-RECREATION

Co-Rec was cancelled fall quarter due to the interference with the Saturday afternoon home football game, but was resumed winter quarter.

The Recreation Club sponsors Co-Rec as a service project. Mrs. McCabe, faculty advisor, six student leaders, two lifeguards, and a person issuing equipment keep Co-Rec operating smoothly.

Below are the members of the two winning football teams in the MIA competition this year. Immediate right is Bill Leung of Alford Hall who is the 1962 table tennis champion.

ACT III

"Now flowers unfold their beauties to the sun."
Richard B. Sheridan

Spring, flowers in bloom, the signs of new activity and life come back to Central; yet the traditions of the past, Sweezy Day, the ROTC Spring Review, are still continued. And all the dramatic activities of Spring quarter, the Presidential Inauguration, the Symposium on American Values, take their place beside the symbolism of the new buildings under construction, the men's and women's dormitories and dining hall, which herald new life and growth to come for CWSC.

CENTRAL'S BAND ON TOUR

The Concert Band, besides performing at games during fall quarter and giving very commendable concerts, went on their annual tour during Spring Vacation. The members should be proud and pleased to have represented Central in the manner they did. A great deal of extra time and long sessions led to the continuity and good sound that Central's band had this year.

Waldie Anderson, the assistant director, also traveled with the Concert Choir to do a vocal solo that was a highlight of their program.

An unexpected guest conductor was present at one of the Pep Band's performances.

CENTRAL SINGERS

The Central Singers, directed by Dr. Wayne Hertz, besides many other occasions, traveled to the Western Washington Coast for their annual tour. A brief resume of the places and performances follows: April 8, the University Congregational Church, Seattle; April 9, Renton High School, Woodrow Wilson High School, Tacoma, and Hoquiam High School Gym; April 10, Grays Harbor College, Centralia High School, and Castle Rock Gym; April 11, Kelso High School, R.A. Long High School, Longview, Battle Ground High School, and Camas High School; April 12, Washougal High School, Stevenson High School, and Goldendale High School; April 13, Sunnyside High School, Wapato High School, and KIMA T.V. in Yakima.

Members of the Central Singers are chosen from the choir class by try-outs. The group this year approximated seventy members and was one of Central's best, both in representing Central and in their professional performances.

The entire fall term is spent learning and polishing the "Messiah" for its performance at Christmas with added voices from the faculty and community. The choir gets just a glimpse of the numbers they will do on Spring tour—they are all learned during winter and the first part of spring quarter. A lot of hard work and valuable time given resulted in a group that should surely make every Central student proud.

W U S

Through Central's contributions to the WUS fund during WUS week, April 2-6, many foreign students will be aided in obtaining an education.

WUS week at Central included such activities as a variety show, a mixer, a "Professor Snarf" contest, and a costume dance and festivities with the theme of "The Roaring Twenties."

Tuesday was selected as Club Day and the traditional "jail" with Spur "sheriffs" was a well-liked feature.

To help the WUS fund, the Saturday night movies proceeds were contributed, also.

WEEK

Herodoteans, whose purpose is to promote an interest in history, added a lot to WUS Week by conducting a book sale on Club Day. Among other things, the members sponsored a bean feed, had initiation, and made a Homecoming sign. Any history major or minor with a B average in fifteen hours of upper division history, at least five hours of which must have been taken at Central, are eligible for membership in the Herodoteans Club.

Another contributor to the WUS Week activities was the Kappa Delta Pi Club, the education honorary, who sponsored a food sale.

SPRING ACTIVITIES

Spring Quarter was packed with activities for Central students, but our Hyakem deadlines prevent us from giving them complete coverage.

The key event of the quarter was of course the Inauguration of the CWSC President, Dr. Brooks, and the Symposium which was held in conjunction with that event. Noted speakers from major fields who spoke at the Symposium on "American Values in a Time of Crisis" were Herbert Muller, Philosophy of history; Ludwig von Bertalanffy, Philosophy of science; Kenneth Burke, Literary Criticism and Psychology; Ira Progoff, Depth Psychology; Jaroslav Pelikan, Theology. Dr. Harold Taylor, educator and philosopher, presented the Inaugural address. Student-faculty committees prepared in advance for the Symposium following the plans of David Burt and Elwyn Odell, Co-Chairmen and originators. Student-led discussion groups and a week of pertinent functions relative to the general theme were other activities of the week.

Following close on the WUS Week enthusiasm was preparation for Central's first "Parent Day" weekend—a combination of what used to be "Dad's Day" and Mother's Week-end". The theme for the week-end was a "New Twist" and it was well carried out by Bob Aho, chairman of the Parents' variety Show.

"Visit to a Small Planet," the spring play, was held during the week of the Symposium and gave both a humorous and a satirical view on American Values.

The new Miss Sweezy was crowned after a short pageant and will reign for one year representing our college about the state.

Completing a quarter filled with fun was the celebration of "Sweezy Day"—saved from oblivion last year by the "Roman Holiday" theme. It was decided to make "Roman Holiday" the annual theme for the event and Van Lehman, general chairman, with a large committee donned togas and sandals and encouraged fellow Sweezy-ites to do the same. Members of Sweezy Day committee were: Pat Deane, Charlotte Wright: Coronation

BOTH VALUABLE AND FUN

Richard Davis, Diane Lowe, Norma Frizelle, and Van Lehman.

Dance; Diane Lowe, Norma Frizelle: Coronation; Richard Davis: Talent Show; Dennis Primoli: Food and Picnic; Doug Pederson, Ed Tucker, Chuck Moser, Mike Lee: Rodeo; Dennis Hubbard, Larry Osborn, Mary Jane Lehman, Pat La Brie: Publicity; Ward Jamison: Finance; Tom Pratt, Toni Rydman, Joan Pratt: Band; Dean Low was the advising assistant. The night before Sweezy Day, Central was entertained by the music of Count Basie, one of the big names of entertainment brought to Central by the Student Government Association.

CAMPUS CRIER

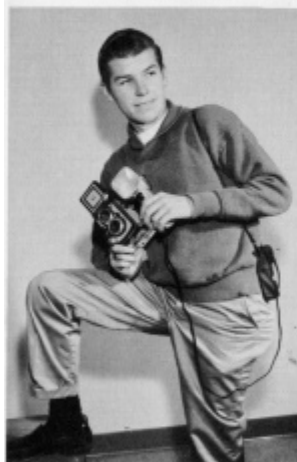

Assigning stories, writing editorials, meeting deadlines, and laying out pages were all part of a week's work for Campus Crier editors, Judy Harmon and Jeanie Smith.

Highlights of the year were the special Homecoming insert featuring old pictures of the college, teachers and past Homecoming activities; the five column colored picture in the Christmas edition; and the special election coverage during winter quarter. Spring quarter, the Crier featured special inserts on the American Values Symposium held in May.

As climax to the year's activities, the Crier and Hyakem staffs jointly sponsored a Journalism Banquet honoring staffs during the latter part of May.

YEAR'S EVENTS

The 1961-1962 Hyakem staff put in a busy and a hectic year, trying to reflect the spirit and drama of the year's events in the pages of a lasting memory book. Plans for cover, theme, and layout design led to much turmoil during beginning months, but by Christmas all was ready for progress. The group lost its Assistant Editor at the end of fall quarter and soon was reduced to a small loyal working staff. With salary raises in winter quarter came new staff members and through winter and spring quarters deadlines were met and work progressed until the last deadline in April, when the group celebrated completion of the book with a dinner given by Hal Scofield, Yakima Photographer, and again with the Crier Staff at the annual Crier-Hyakem banquet. Books were passed out at the end of spring quarter.

BASEBALL

Of the approximate forty baseball prospects in the lineup, eight were returning lettermen. Seven of the veterans made up a veteran infield with the eight lettermen returning to the outfield.

Jim Nylander, baseball coach, made final team selections early in the spring quarter.

TENNIS TEAM IN ACTION

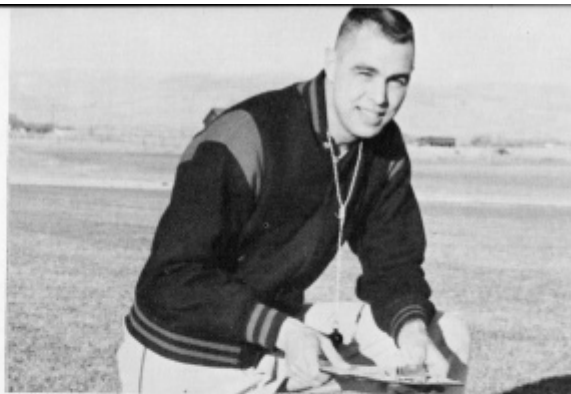

TENNIS AND TRACK BEGIN SEASON

Central Washington State College opened its track season with an indoor meet at Washington State University, Saturday, March 17.

With the return of 14 lettermen and a lot of promising newcomers, track coach Adrian Beamer was anxious to get the boys working outside and check for accurate times. Bad weather limited practice sessions to the Nicholson Pavillion early in the season, but Ellensburg sun soon aided the track team in their successful quarter.

The Wildcats tennis team completed its first week of turnouts, and coach Everett Irish felt a couple of the newcomers looked like good prospects. With only two veterans returning to the racket game, the Wildcats' hopes for the season rested on how well the newcomers progressed.

WHO'S WHO

David Roys

Marilyn Palmer

The 1961-62 edition of the national publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" will include nineteen Sweezy student leaders. After nomination by the Student Government Association, the names were approved by the faculty and then ultimately approved by the national book. All accepted students are either juniors or seniors having a minimum of a 2.5 grade point average and are outstandingly active in campus organization and activities. The juniors chosen are shown on this page, seniors on successive pages.

David Roys, a music student, has been particularly active in the Music Educators National Club, concert band, in which he is a tuba soloist, Central singers, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, serving as vice-president, SGA council, and dormitory house council.

Marilyn Palmer, president of Kamola Hall, has allotted some of her time and talent to the editorship of Inscape, being a SPUR, a member of Sigma Mu Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and Central singers.

Richard Davis, besides adding much to the many Central plays, has been the Hyakem assistant editor (1960-61), was the Hyakem editor of this year, is president of Alpha Psi Omega, and has been a member of the SGA movie committee.

Two of Elaine Whitener's most outstanding contributions to Central and its students are her position as SGA secretary and the National Student Association coordinator.

Besides being the resident of Munro Hall, and member and president pro-tem of the Student Planning Council, Curt Pickett devoted the majority of his time this past term to the responsibilities of President of the Student Government Association.

The 1961 Homecoming Queen, Betty Larson, has also been a SPUR, a songleader, a Military Ball princess, secretary of Munson Hall, and Secretary of AWS.

Central Washington State College

Class of 1962

The graduating class assumes an additional honor this year, for it is the first class to graduate from the newly named Central Washington State College. For this reason and because graduation is the most dramatic moment of the year, the 1962 Hyakem gives special recognition to the graduating seniors through this introduction to the senior pages which follow.

When the Washington State Normal School graduated its first class in 1893, only eleven seniors received diplomas. During the ceremony, held in Lloyd's Opera House, each student gave an entertainment of his own (from a zither solo to a duet) before he received parting words from the four faculty members who made up the teaching staff.

What a far cry that graduation was from the large ceremony held in Nicholson Pavilion at the close of this, the 1962 college year when over 500 seniors and graduate students became the first class to receive Bachelor of Arts and Masters Degrees from Central Washington State College!

Much has transpired between that first graduation and the Saturday morning ceremony of today. The Washington State Normal School has grown from a one building institution (the first building being the present Administration Building) to a sprawling college campus dotted with modern buildings.

From that time, graduating classes have seen one new building after another rise from the planning stages. In

GRACE WILSON: BA

1908 came the present music building and in 1911, Kamola Hall (remodeled from the Normal Club House). After 1925, the college experienced even more growth as new buildings appeared—the old library, Sue Lombard Hall and another Elementary school. The post war period brought with it the addition of prefab housing and new men's dormitories as well as married student housing; and since that time, plans have been drawn and new buildings constructed constantly: Commons, the remodeled CUB, the Nicholson Pavilion, Black Hall and the Grupe Center, and the new library. Still more buildings are on the drawing boards for music and student housing.

Central Washington State College, has also changed in purpose—from teacher education to preparation for arts and sciences as well. Over the years, Central's graduates have watched the fun, the happiness, and the progress of college life here at Ellensburg; they have participated and aided in its progress, but more dramatic progress lies ahead as these seniors of the class of 1962 takes their places in our society.

"The most agreeable recompense which we can receive for things which we have done is to see them known, to have them applauded with praises which honor us."

Moliere

And so we have created this book, assembled the activities of the fall, winter and spring seasons at Central for your enjoyment and reminiscence.

"... Our Revels now are ended. These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits and
Are melted into air, into thin air:
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep."

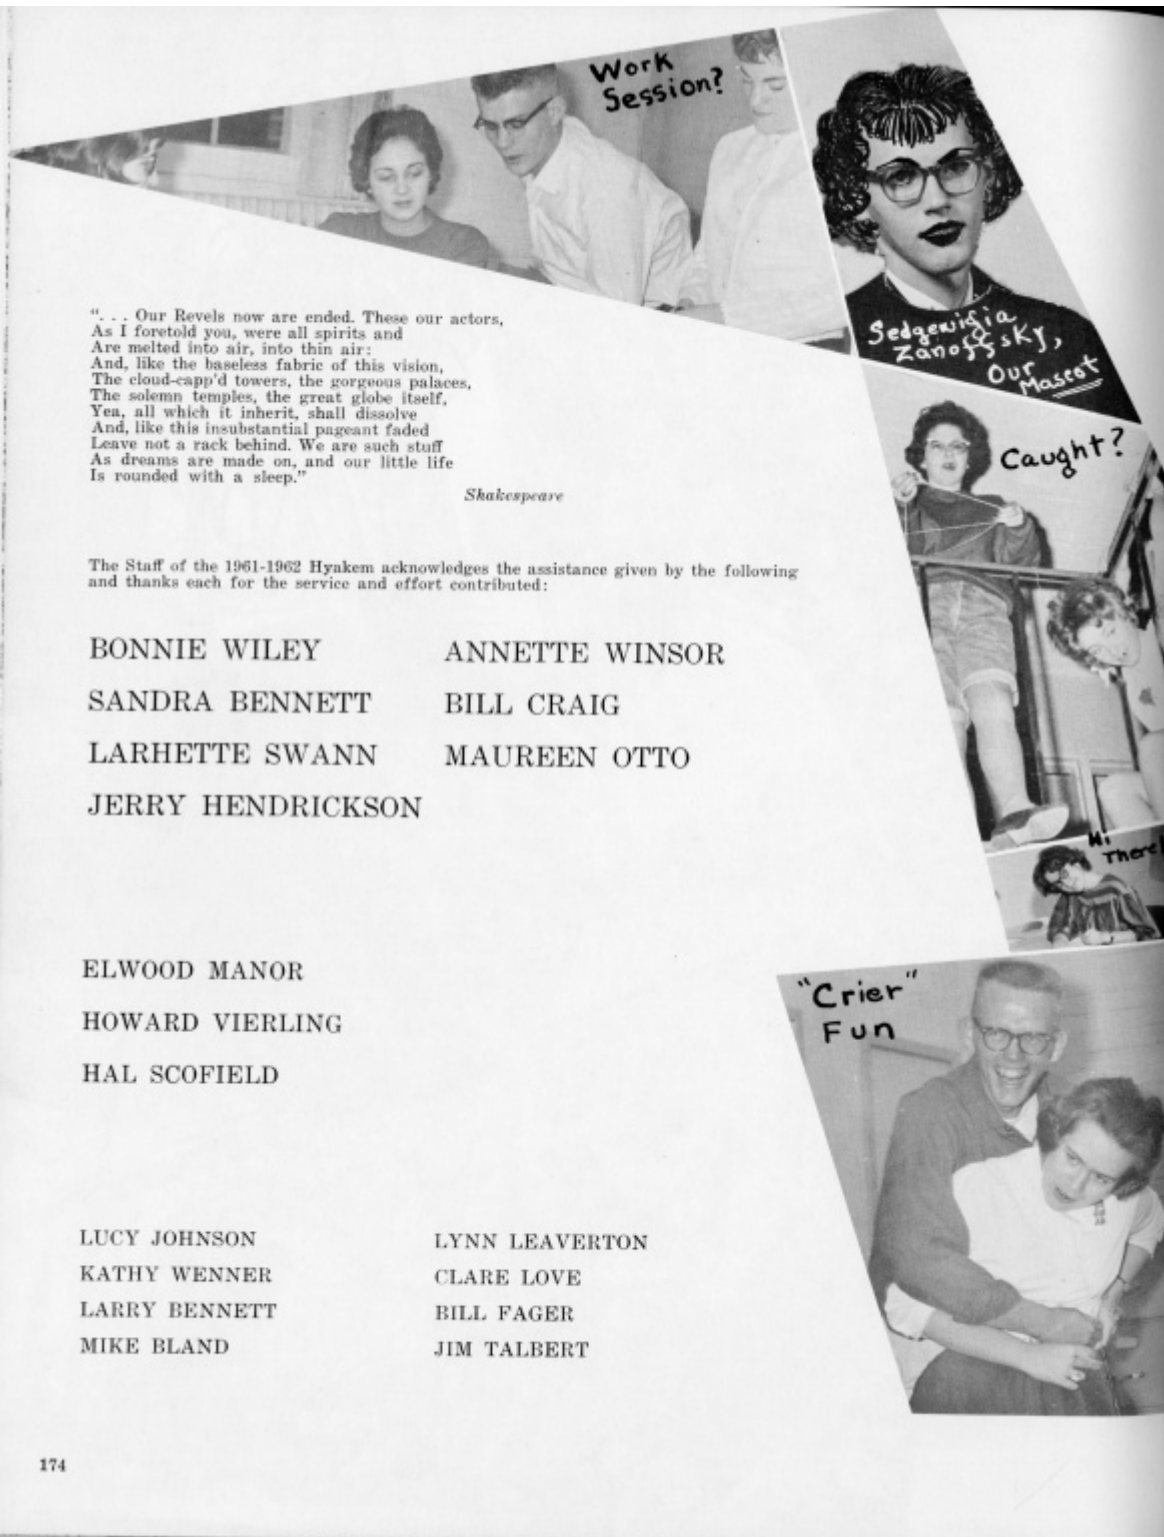

Shakespeare

THE CURTAIN FALLS

The Curtain Falls far too soon on the 1962 Hyakem as we close the book with these last pages of thank-you's, ads, and humor. Publisher's deadlines make it impossible to cover the events of 1962 spring quarter with any adequacy.

Sweezy Day, the spring play, graduation, and the complete coverage of the President's Inauguration and accompanying Symposium on "American Values in a Time of Crisis" can only be hinted at. But we have tried in the 192 pages of this book to cover as many of the most memorable events of 1961-1962 as we could. If we have been successful in our attempt, if we have captured even a portion of the spirit of Central Washington State in this, its first college year of existence, we can let the curtain fall with some satisfaction and knowledge of a performance well done. If we have made it possible for you to recall with happiness and pleasure the part you played in the exciting and dramatic events of this past college year, we will in a sense take our curtain calls each time you turn back to review those memories within this book.
